

Association of Zoos and Aquariums
2007 Reciprocal Admissions
Last Updated: January 2007

One of the benefits of becoming a member of your local zoo or aquarium is discounted admission to any of the other AZA-accredited zoos and aquariums that participate in the Reciprocal Admissions Program.

Make sure that you read the Reciprocal Admissions Program Rules of Operation before you plan a visit to any participating institution.

Reciprocal Admissions Program Rules of Operation

- Not all AZA institutions participate in the Reciprocal Admissions Program.
- Participating AZA institutions located in close geographic proximity to each other are not required to offer free admission to each other's members in order to participate in this program (distance determined by participating institutions).
- During the year, there may be changes to the list of participating institutions. While we make every attempt to post updates as soon as possible, it is always a good idea to call ahead BEFORE you visit.
- The Reciprocal Admissions Program covers admission to the main facility on normal operating days and hours and may exclude exhibits or events requiring an additional fee.
- Remember to bring proof of your zoo or aquarium membership and photo id with you.
- The number of visitors admitted with a family membership may vary depending on the zoo or aquarium.
